

MATERIALS LIST for Creating & removing acrylic FROM HOME

- Two big water pots [big yogurt pots are ideal]
- Newspaper/plastic sheet to cover tables [diy or shower curtain?]
- washing up sponges [the ones with a scourer on one side]
- Kitchen paper towel. A j cloth/rag
- A hb- 2b soft pencil, rubber, ruler. Scrap white paper for planning
- A big white tray/plate or white paper plates as a palette. Or best, purchase a tear off palette.
- A board [at least a3, preferably a bit larger] and masking tape to mount sheets.
- Overall/apron. [bring if you have, Sandpaper, wirewool, vaseline , pipette, magic eraser,craft knife, but I will have some to try]

TO PURCHASE

- .stiff haired brushes. A flat square headed brush of $\frac{1}{2}$ " or so [see pack at the Works], and a couple of round headed brushes of different size in a medium and large [pack of 5 £1.50ish bargain shops]
- A soft haired pointy brush for final, smaller details, size 6 or so.
- A pad/sheets of acrylic /canvas paper paper approx a3 size or 300gsm/ 140lb watercolour paper can be used for exercises and initial paintings.
- Depending on time [and your speed!], a stretched canvas is nice to work on, of at least A4 size, The ones sold at bargain shops for £2-3 are ideal.
- Paints- Student quality will be fine to start eg the cryla and system3 range are good [some cheaper ones are fine to start, some just don't cover or have correct shades] Hobbycraft have their own cheap range or pebeo is gd value in their sales. [avoid pebeo alizarin crimson] Start modestly then you can add.

Either a starter set[but they rarely have the best colours] or if separate tubes, ideally medium size, in these colours will paint most things.[You will use white up the most]

Ultramarine and Prussian blue. White. Burnt umber. Cadmium red. Alizarin crimson. Lemon yellow, cadmium yellow, Raw sienna. Paynes grey.[green & black can be mixed]

Hobby craft [Kingsteignton] and The Range has a good range. Trago is cheaper but sometimes patchy [!]. Picture This and Home Direct in Teignmouth have a small range. The latter[next to Peacocks] has inexpensive canvases, boards and paint sets. The Works [in Newton Abbot/ Exeter] is very good for bargain supplies.
